Forest District moves to buy Hunter's Woods

FRANKFORT — Hunter's Woods, a timber tract at the east end of Lincoln Estates, which is bounded on the east by Pauling Brothers farm, and on the west by 78th Avenue, will become a part of the Will County Forest Preserve system, if current plans are carried out.

According to County Board Member Glen Coburn, who also is supervisor of Frankfort Township and on the Real Estate Committee of the Forest Preserve Board, an agreement has been reached with Miss M. N. Elsenau, owner of a 20 acre tract, for the purchase of that amount. The contract has not been returned yet to the board, Coburn said, but Miss Elsenau has agreed to sell it, the land, at $5,000 an acre.

The adjoining 20 acres, Coburn explained, is owned by a Nevada syndicate which has plans for covering the space with multiple housing units. Miss Elsenau had been offered $6,000 an acre for her land by the syndicate, Coburn said, but preferred to sell to the county at a lesser price.

A Chicago attorney, Richard Rosenthal, is the agent for the syndicate, Coburn said, and has not indicated that his principals are prepared to sell their timberland to the county for $5,000. The county board has a resolution drawn up which it will adopt at meeting in January, Coburn said, to acquire the land of the Nevada group by purchase or condemnation.

"The fact we have an offer from the adjoining landowner to sell us the acreage at $5,000 an acre puts the Forest Preserve Board in excellent position with the Nevada syndicate," Coburn said, "if we have to go to court to get the land."

The two 20-acre pieces are at the south end of two 40-acre portions of land fronting on U.S. 30, and running south to the railway tracks.

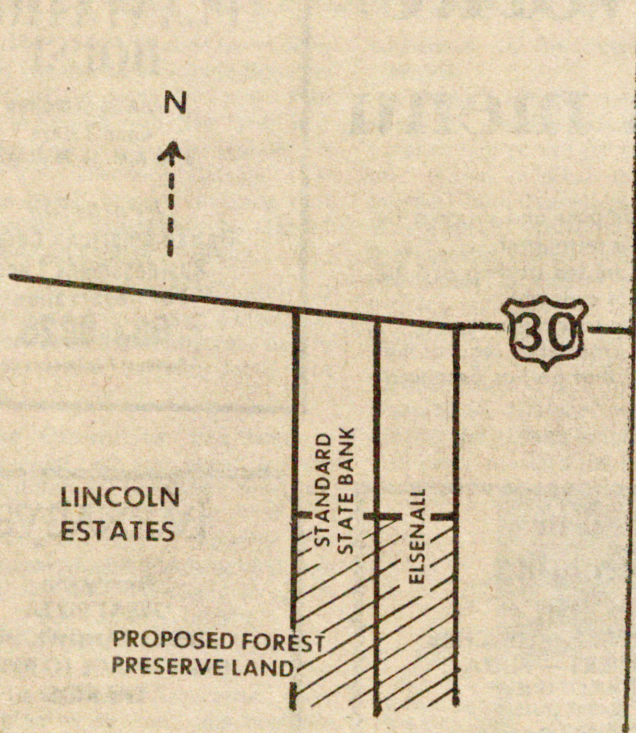

Both of the 20-acre pieces are heavily wooded and there is a pond on the piece owned by the Nevada group, Coburn said. The properties are only a couple of blocks from Ann Rutledge school and science classes there use the timbered acreage as a laboratory, it was said.

As a matter of fact, Coburn said, 64 youngsters in the area and 50 parents wrote to the Northeastern Illinois Plan Commission and urged that it recommend a federal grant so the county can acquire the property on a matching fund basis. Coburn said that NIPC has agreed that these woods should become public land and will recommend a federal grant to aid in their purchase.

"We would like to have the meadow land that makes up the north 40 acres of the 80-acre strip," Coburn said, "but the county does not have the money to purchase it at this time. We will have a 30-foot easement along the east side of the Elsenau property however, that will give us an entrance to the woods off U.S. 30."

Coburn said that the 40-acres of woodland will cost about $200,000 but that the county should get half of the cost from HUD (Housing Urban Development), a federal agency.

The Elsenau tract has been used by the Tingley Park Archery Club for a number of years, Coburn said, and there is a parking space there and the club also has laid out a number of trails.

The shaded area, approximately 40 acres of wooded land, is what the Will County Forest Preserve would like to purchase and place into the county's Forest Preserve District. The county has reached agreement on 20 acres and is now negotiating on the other 20 acres.

Beautiful or beastly?

Nature put on her holiday finery early this year — snow drops didn't glisten so much, as claimed in the song, but trees and shrubbery certainly did, as evident here.

Valley View to be sold soon? Speculation about deserted pool

FRANKFORT — Valley View, an 87-acre tract bordering the north and south sides of U.S. 30 about a quarter mile east of Wolf Road, is in the news again.

Two years ago it was announced that the 30 heavily wooded acres on the north side of U.S. 30, which included a swimming pool, would be turned over to the park boards of Frankfort, Mokena and New Lenox, if Frankfort would annex the south 47 acres, zone it for commercial and industrial purposes and the park boards paid the cost of extending the Frankfort sanitary sewer to the south portion of the property.

Later the federal agency that owns the property allegedly changed its mind about the zoning and wanted the south portion of the property as a site for apartments and multiple family dwellings. That was not agreeable to Frankfort and the three park boards declined to bring any influence to bear on Frankfort officials to change their minds.

At the Frankfort Village Board meeting Monday night, Burton Breidert, village administrator, reported that in the course of negotiations with Mokena relative to boundaries and jurisdiction it was mutually agreed that the master plan for the area should include the Valley View tract as marked as open space, for use as a park, a forest preserve or recreation spot.

He suggested that the Frankfort board support such a proposal and a motion was adopted stating that Frankfort was in favor of such a project.

Trustee Lynn Kohlhausen, who made the motion, said he was afraid it was too late because from information he has received the federal agency with title to the land, the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, is preparing to dispose of the property by sale within the next 30 days.

This agency came in possession of the property when it took over the assets of the defunct Marshall Savings and Loan of Chicago. Former owners of Valley View had put it up as surety for a loan from Marshall. The loan was not paid off so the land wound up in possession of the agency insuring the deposits in the savings and loan firm, it was explained.

There was even a ceremony two years ago, the Sunday before the general election, at which the acreage on the north side of U.S. 30 was apparently turned over to the representatives of the three park boards present for the occasion.

The late U.S. Senator Ralph Tyler Smith, was one of the speakers. He and Sen. Percy were credited with aiding the project. Senator Smith was defeated in the election and while there was more conversation about the property going to the park boards nothing materialized and finally it was not even a conversation piece until now.

At one time the three park boards offered to buy the 30 acres on the south side but at that time the deposit insurance agency apparently was not interested.

Man attacks housewife Friday night

OAK LAWN — A Mokena housewife, according to Oak Lawn police, told them she had been raped twice and suffered several knife wounds as a result of an attack by a man, who accosted her as she entered her car near the Korvette Store at 8700 S. Cicero Ave.

The 32-year-old woman told police that the man forced his way into the car before she had opportunity to lock it and holding a knife to her face ordered her to slide over in the seat. The door on the passenger side was locked and she had no opportunity to escape that way, according to the report.

The man drove to an alley in the 11200 Block of South Avenue in Chicago where he parked, assaulted her twice and then slashed her left wrist, severing some tendons, according to the police report. When she exclaimed that she might bleed to death her assailant slashed the wrist again and then cut her across the chest.

The man then took her wallet and identification and drove off in her car. The woman then ran down the alley until she came to an open gate back of 11241 South Avenue H, and turned in there. The people in the house admitted her and called police.

The victim was taken first to South Chicago Community Hospital and later to County Hospital. She was reported in good condition. The assault took place last Friday night, Dec. 15. She described her attacker as a Negro, about 6 feet 3 inches and weighing about 180 pounds. She said he was wearing an army fatigue jacket, a red ski cap and blue jeans.

Attorney contends 'Rate jump unjustified'

By MICHAEL J. FLYNN

FRANKFORT SQUARE — The facts presented to the Illinois Commerce Commission hearing examiners by representatives of Prestwick Utilities in support of its request for a 40 per cent water and sewer rate increase in the communities of Prestwick and Frankfort Square were termed "incomprehensible" and "unreliable" by the Frankfort Square Homeowners Association Attorney, William J. Flynn, a resident of Prestwick, last week at a hearing of the ICC on Prestwick Utilities rate application.

Flynn noted that all of the testimony and exhibits of Prestwick Utilities were a conglomeration of estimates, averages, customer equivalents and referrals to standard procedures of Prestwick Utilities and not the firm figures and historical facts that a proper application would contain.

Flynn illustrated his point by drawing the attention of the ICC examiners to the fact that salaries attributable to the operation of Prestwick Utilities were impossible to determine since they were paid to their employees by a wholly owned subsidiary of Utilities, Inc., which in turn owns Prestwick Utilities, known as Water Service Corp.

Flynn also noted the decisions and directives of Utilities Incorporated which determined that only a nominal investment of money was to be contributed to the proprietary capital of Prestwick Utilities. Instead, working capital was to be advanced on a secured loan basis at the maximum interest attainable. This best served the interests of Utilities Inc., while adding substantial interest payments chargeable to the operating expenses of Prestwick Utilities.

Since a major point of Prestwick Utilities application dealt with its right to a fair return on its investment, Flynn pointed out to the hearing examiners that the total investment of Utilities Incorporated in Prestwick Utilities was only $2,000, and that its rate of return on this small investment was more than adequate under the ICC regulations.

It also was pointed out to the ICC that the separate and combined history and experience of these new communities of Frankfort Square and Prestwick are inadequate for use in determining any increase in rates at this time. The homeowners of each and both communities have a right to expect that the commission will not grant an increase in rates that would unjustly and inequitably shift the Prestwick Utilities

Inc., cost of acquisition and expansion onto these intervenors, Frankfort Square and Prestwick, and other customers of Prestwick Utilities.

Flynn closed his arguments not only with a plea for a denial of any rate increase but for an order that Prestwick Utilities be required to comply with the rules of the commission and to discharge the considerations due its customers in return for the privileges granted it under the laws of the State of Illinois.

Patrick O'Brien, treasurer of Prestwick Utilities, stated in response to a question from the ICC examiner, that his firm was considering an extension of its certificated area because of the building plans of 3 H Building Corp. and the tentative plans of Frankfort resident Albert Krusemark to build a commercial complex in the area.

The Dec. 13 hearing was the final one scheduled on the rate increase. It is expected that the commission will announce its decision in 60 to 90 days.

Second time around

District 161 to vote again Jan. 6

ARBURY HILLS — Three weeks from Saturday — that will be Jan. 6 — voters of School District 161, which includes Arbury Hills, Lincoln Estates, Frankfort Square and adjacent areas, will ballot on a proposal to utilize state funds for building a junior high school in the district.

The amount sought is $666,000. This would be advanced by the state, interest free, and would be paid back over a 16 and two-thirds-year period, as rent. At the end of that period the building would be a part of the district's improvements. The saving in interest would be "tremendous," it was pointed out by the school board.

Districts who exhaust their bonding power may turn to the state for funds to build schools and District 161 has reached that stage.

The state agency in charge of such building is the Capital Development Board.

Aldo Fanti, superintendent of School District 161, said that legislation is now pending in the special session of the General Assembly which would alter the present procedure on repayment of Capital Development loans quite favorably for the property owners. Under the proposed legislation a district would be required to pay back but 40 percent of the loan, the other 60 per cent being a grant by the state.

If this bill is adopted, and Supt. Fanti says he is advised that its passage is quite likely, District 161 would owe the state $266,400 instead of $666,000, which would mean that the average tax bill would increase only about $10 a year.

The $666,000 loan would mean a tax increase the first year of about $27, Fanti said, but at the rate new homes are going up he believes that the tax would drop to about $18 the second year. On this premise if the new act is adopted the tax should drop lower than the estimated $10 after the first year, as new construction goes on the tax rolls.

There is also a provision in the bill which would apply to bond issues. Supt. Fanti said, under which the state would assume 60 percent of the debt.

The special session of the legislature was called to consider bills proposed by Gov. Ogilvie that would freeze real estate taxes for several years. Indications are that the proposed legislation will not be enacted at this session; at least, according to Fanti's information, and so the bills dealing with Capital Development Board loans have been put in the hopper.

District 161 conducted a referendum on the $666,000 loan for a new junior high building last November. There were two polling places then, Arbury Hills School and Ann Rutledge School. The proposal carried in Arbury Hills but the opposition in the Lincoln Estates area was sufficient to defeat it by a margin of three votes.

There will be three polling places in the referendum Jan. 6 — Arbury Hills School, Ann Rutledge School, and in Frankfort Square at a house at 310 Greenfield, which was made possible for the occasion by Hoffman-Rosener, developers of Frankfort Square.

The polls will be open from noon to 7 p.m.

Kirsch releases his final lunch report

OAK FOREST-TINLEY — In a final report on free school lunches in suburban schools, researcher Jeff Kirsch, of the Food Research and Action Center, of New York, claims that "mismanagement" in the office of County Superintendent of Schools has been the cause of widespread violation of Illinois law.

The law requires all school districts in the state to provide free lunches to needy children.

Kirsch said his final report substantiates much of the information he released in a preliminary study three weeks ago.

In the preliminary study, Kirsch cited 39 suburban school districts as not in compliance with the free lunch law. After the release of that study, some of the school districts in the study claimed that they were feeding needy school children in their districts.

Kirsch told the HERALD he would contact every school district involved before releasing his final report. Districts in this area that were cited by Kirsch include: 118, 140, 142, 144, 145, 146, 159 and 228.

Only two of the above district superintendents said their districts were not in compliance when contacted by the HERALD. One of the districts is 146, which has not mailed out to parents a notice of the program's existence. The district will now be mailing the notices, according to Supt. Robert W. Procnier, as a result of Kirsch's report. The other district is 159, which did not have a hot lunch program, and is now attempting a free lunch program.

All the rest of the districts listed above claim that they are in compliance with the law and that they are feeding needy children in their schools.

Kirsch cited "27 districts as serving no lunch at all, nine others as having rudimentary programs, and 34 districts as operating programs that fell short of full compliance." The districts listed above are in the third category except districts 159 and 146, according to Kirsch. District 159 is in the first category; district 146 is the second.

Kirsch lays much of the blame on the County Superintendent Richard J. Martwick's office of those districts in non-compliance.

Kirsch said the state official in charge of school lunches — Robert Ohlzen — "is doing his best to fulfill the legislature's mandate. Kirsch pointed out "the generally good performance" of school districts in counties other than Cook.

"The problem, therefore, has been in the county superintendent's office," Kirsch said. It is that office's responsibility to notify districts in the county of the provisions of the free lunch program.

The county superintendent's office said Kirsch has not verified that other counties besides Cook are in compliance and that Cook is not. "Mr. Kirsch never really verified his report," according to Rosalin Nathan, director of school lunch program for Cook County.

Mrs. Nathan said she did not receive the "method of implementation" for free lunches until Dec. 4, 1972. "We have letters, documents and affidavits to prove our case," Mrs. Nathan said.

She was unsure at press time whether any legal action would be taken against Kirsch's charges.

One superintendent who feels he has been wrongly accused by Kirsch told the HERALD they would consult his district's lawyer for possible action against Kirsch. District 118 Supt. Richard J. Riffel said he would "consult with our attorney."

Stevenson hears homeowners

By MARY STRAU

CHICAGO — "The dream of home ownership has become a nightmare in all parts of the U.S. for all categories of people," exclaimed Aldi E. Stevenson, II, at the Monday, Dec. 18, housing meeting held at the Dirksen Building in Chicago.

He read several letters aloud, and to hear the charges they contained, one would think the complainants were residents of Tobacco Road or similar remote rural locations. But, his comments were supported and strengthened by homeowner association representatives from Chicagoland lakefront, inner city and suburban areas; among them, Rainbow Valley in Mokena, Appletree Homeowners Association in Hazel Crest, Harvey Area Community Association of Harvey, and Forest Heights Homeowners Association in Chicago Heights.

The general thrust was against the Federal Housing Association (FHA), which is "supposed to provide government building inspection, but in which, trust is often misplaced," said the senator. The Homeowners present then shared their unpleasant FHA experiences, and as was the intent of this meeting, proceeded to suggest to the senator, forceable remedies.

Reports of deplorable conditions existing in new homes included wall decay, mold on walls, plumbing inadequacies, cracks in roofs, sinking foundations, and most commonly, flooding as water seeps in through floors or creeps down the walls.

The conclusion has been reached that FHA inspection of new homes to be purchased under FHA loan, never occurs — or least too infrequently for comfort. In the Appletree subdivision in Hazel Crest, "Every law in the book has been broken," said John Turcotte. "The ads say 'no water in Appletree,' but I lost my sod to my neighbor and she lost it to her neighbor."

And in Rainbow Valley subdivision in Mokena, "Some work is being done to rectify the situation, but specifications say the home's concrete slab should be four inches thick, and they are actually only 2 inches," remarked Floyd Bouton. The question is, "How can such gross errors be corrected?"

When a buyer purchases a home, the seller and the mortgaging institution are free of further responsibility concerning the dwelling. It is the tax-payer and homeowner upon whom the burden falls, even though the contractor or subcontractor is at fault. Senator Stevenson explained that the Small Business Association (SBA) provides for loans to repair such damage. Up to $5,000 can be charged to the builder; excess cost to the homeowner.

He continued, "In South Elgin there is work being done right now on reimbursable aid; however this doesn't include Sec. 203 for existent housing. I have again introduced into Congress the resolution that this should apply for all homes."

Father Richard Doderio, O.L.A. Area Committee, 3808 Iowa St., Chicago, agreed, "There is a need for the government to provide for its past mistakes. The City is dying. The suburbs have to be opened." He accused the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) which receives numerous housing complaints such as these, of "putting up steel doors to keep us out, and its elevators seem to break down whenever we arrive."

His suggestion that a solution might be "to fire all HUD personnel and start over anew" brought applause. A more reasonable solution seemed to lie in the area of making the mortgager assume some responsibility in the real estate transaction.

"There is no control over real estate brokers in Illinois," said Edward Stefaniak, Northwest Community Organization. "Mortgages are handled like you'd buy candy over a concession stand. They expect the FHA — which isn't proving to do the job — to do the inspection for them. It is a 100 per cent profit with no risk." If this responsibility were passed on to the mortgager, the builder would be pressed into meeting specifications. Presumably.

John Turcotte stated, "Kaufman and Broad (major Chicagoland area builders) have pulled off one of the greatest swindles in the country. They've bribed everyone from the top to bottom."

Judy Yaeger, Southwest Community Congress in the vicinity of Damen and Western between 5500 South and 7500 South, blames insurance companies for moving against the blacks and elderly.

"Besides the phone call harassment that elderly residents must endure — one woman reported 30 calls in a week, warning her to get out of the changing neighborhood — insurance companies are known to cancel policies of 20 years with no claims. What can homeowner in a 'high-risk' neighborhood do when he is refused insurance? He might decide to move."

"Under the FHA Fair Plan, blacks may pay very high premiums and get poor coverage. Whites get no coverage.

Board considers subdivisions

ORLAND PARK — Almost faster than it can say the word the Village Board is being asked to consider new subdivisions in Orland Park. The latest in a rash of developers who have approached the board is Theodore Katsche who asked the board Monday evening that the appropriate machinery be started for his development of 75 acres.

The property lies approximately at 155th Street and 80th Avenue. Catalina is to the east, Teebrook is adjacent and to the northwest and the Boley farm is to the north.

Katsche Construction has been in business since 1927 and plans to build homes similar to Catalina. However, Trustee Don Pekau noted that the eastern one-half of the property was shown in apartments. Pekau said village policy allows only 20 per cent in apartments in a non-commercial site.

Pekau also questioned why Katsche's planner, who is also the village planner William Lawrence & Associates, drew up a plan with an unacceptable provision. Katsche said Lawrence was employed by him and drew to his requirements as stated.

The plan was referred to the Planning Commission for its Jan. 16 meeting.

In another matter the board accepted the recommendation of the Zoning Board of Appeals to change to Class C Commercial District 60 acres on the southeast side of 143rd Street and La Grange Road. The property is owned by Terry Kunes who plans a commercial development.

Consideration of an ordinance to raise the available number of Class A and Class B liquor licenses because of village commitments to developers was tabled. Trustees failed to arrive at a consensus on the license fees to be charged.

Trustee Jon Anderson reported on a study of policies offered by two insurance companies for health, accident and major medical for village employees. Both Travellers Insurance and Washington National included the prerequisite clause demanded by the board that the carrier pick up all pre-existing conditions of any employee. By unanimous vote the bid of Traveller's was accepted as more advantageous following defeat of a motion to accept Washington National which presently carries the village employees.

In other matters the board:

— granted a business license to Village Wallpaper and Paint at 9965 W. 143rd Street.

— acknowledge corrective work done at no charge to the Administration Building by Dee-Dee Builders.

— approved one building permit to Catalina for $32,000

— read a letter from Frank Itzel, 9705 Ravinia, commending Police Chief Robert Olson's kindness in helping Itzel who had fallen on the ice

— expressed appreciation to Nancy Sims who had gifted each trustee with a jar of homemade Christmas candy

— adjourned until Tuesday, Jan. 2

Mental Center nurse

Hinders attack probe

It has come to our attention what we consider the most flagrant foul yet at the Tinley Park Mental Health Center and we are not sure if it is due to fear or spite. It occurred this past weekend.

It appears that a female patient was attacked by a male patient in one of the wards. Members of the hospital security responded to the call as expected. When members of the security force attempted to conduct a routine investigation, as is their procedure, they were met with strong resistance by a member of the nursing staff.

The nurse refused to cooperate with the investigating officer and continually harassed the officers for cooperating with the HERALD during recent investigations of the hospital.

Frustrated, the hospital security officers called in the Tinley Park Police. Upon beginning the investigation for the Tinley Park Police, Officer Rodger Barton attempted to question the nurse. By this time an hour had lapsed and neither the security police nor the Tinley Police had been told the name of the victim.

Officer Barton informed the nurse that she could be arrested for refusing to give this information. It made no difference to the nurse. She defiantly held out her wrists to be handcuffed but was politely refused by the police.

Officer Barton should be personally commended for taking the verbal abuse from this nurse and maintaining his sense of professionalism throughout the investigation. The Tinley Park Police as a whole are to be commended for the professional manner in which they handled the entire situation.

More than an hour passed before Dr. Jose Garcia, the medical officer of the day arrived in the ward. Dr. Garcia was involved in an emergency situation elsewhere and could not respond to the call immediately.

Dr. Garcia is liked and respected by the staff members that know him for his genuine concern toward patients. The HERALD is not questioning his action during this incident.

Editor:

I am sending the following rebuttal article to various newspapers and other media as a direct challenge to the statements issued by Mr. Holt of Hillcrest Builders in a news article in the Suburbanite Economist of Nov. 26. I would appreciate your re-print of this rebuttal in any form you may so desire so that I can communicate my position.

I request the following rebuttal article to appear in your newspaper under the caption Villa West's Hoffman Speaks. I have never demanded or requested the impossible from the Hillcrest Builders but prior to closing our deal on the home, which I have never denied was a model but rather purchased because I believed at the time that all builders build their models a little better than the actual field constructed homes, we questioned Mr. Ray Hickman of their firm about the water stains on the carpeting in the family room and wanted to know if the foundation leaked.

He told us that they had a crack in the foundation in the utility room adjacent to the family room wall, but that it had been fixed. At the time his statement seemed sufficient; however on a few other matters I decided that I should have Mr. Howard of the firm sign a paper showing that they would fulfill some other items that had to be taken care of. One little item I requested was some top soil that was needed for the backyard so that I could lay sod on the clay ground that existed there. I also requested some grading work because they built the home low in the ground and showed all evidence that they had evidently never taken a grade line when they built the home.

Shortly after moving into this house our basement flooded. There was a lake in the backyard. We were sick!

Upon numerous complaints by phone and in person we always received the courteous prompt Hillcrest pledge that "we will fix it." They never did fix it!

On Wednesday, Nov. 22, when the reporters according to your paper (Suburbanite) visited three homes in the Villa West area of which mine was mentioned by address my wife and children were home all day and no one came up to the house or sent into the yard; the only visit I can see is that they drove by.

At this time I personally extend a visit to your reporters if they will phone me and I will personally show them the water cracks in the foundation and further evidences of past flooding that goes back to days, weeks, months, prior to myself or my family knowing that this home existed here at 13509 S. 85th Ave. in Orland Park, Ill.

When I go into court I have past prospective buyers who personally saw the basement flooded and decided not to buy here in Villa West; these witnesses came upon this property before I came to this area.

Mr. Kaslubek made one visit to our home after the last flooding and admitted to the crack in the utility room foundation and said that he would recommend to the building firm that they tile this area on the outside of the foundation and also repair this crack.

The remainder of the foundation area, he further stated, should be taken care of by myself.

Mr. Kaslubek also removed one section of paneling on the east side of the family room facing the yard and patio area, looking for water leakage. However, he couldn't find any.

The reason he couldn't find any is that for the very first time in history of this building the water drains away from the building and is absorbed in the sod and deep stone walk areas that abound in the backyard.

Mr. Kaslubek told me that they had a water problem here and that they even extended the plastic pipe hose on the sump pump to keep the water away from the building. Upon closer examination of the paneled wall area that Mr. Kaslubek removed there is the evidence of the massive amount of flooding that took place during the course of the life of this building while it was being shown as their model for the subdivision; thick mud deposits on the foundation sill and mud run-offs on the walls.

Prior to closing the final paper work at Hillcrest's office (at which time I had a substantial down payment) I questioned Mr. Howard about how soon I could get various building faults and other matters corrected. I told him also at the time that I was going to join the homeowners association and should he fail to correct these faults within a reasonable time I would pressurize him through this organization.

He told me, "If we are going to have trouble from you in this area than we

Virginia doesn't care

They're different guys

By Gertrude Gallagher

No, Santa Claus is not St. Nicholas. And Santa isn't schizophrenic, either. Christmas lyrics to the contrary the two figures are separate and distinct characters.

The gentleman with the longer claim to fame is St. Nicholas, a fourth century bishop noted for his kindness to children. Few facts are known about him other than his being imprisoned by the Roman Emperor Diocletian and released by Constantine the Great before being fed to the lions.

By the 13th century most European countries had developed a veneration for him. Children enjoyed the traditional "vizia of St. Nicholas" on Dec. 5, the evening before the day set aside on the church calendar for honoring him. They promised the saint to overcome their faults and to obey their parents and received gifts of fruit and candy from the man impersonating the bishop.

When the Dutch came to America they continued the ancient custom even though it was after the Reformation. When the English followed and arrived in New York their children looked with envy on the Dutch children who received gifts from the kindly, Sinter Klaas.

However, a bishop did not sit too well with the English, many of whom were Presbyterian. The visit of the mysterious man whom the Dutch called Sinter Klaas (pronounced Santa Claus) was changed and somewhere in the 18th Century an unknown person invented a complete replacement.

The modern Santa Claus is based more on the pagan Germanic god Thor (after whom Thursday is named) than the bishop. From ancient Germanic mythology we learn Thor was an elderly and friendly man, heavy of build with a white beard. His color was red and his element, fire. He alone among the gods never rode horseback. Instead, he rode in a chariot drawn by two white goats called Cracker and Gnasher.

Thor was said to live in the Northland where he inhabited an ice home. The fireplace was especially sacred to him, and he was said to enter the homes through the chimney into his element, fire.

So, "Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus", but you can bet your long red underwear it isn't "Jolly Old St. Nick."

Auto leader urges caution for holidays

The Chicago Motor Club-AAA urges motorists and pedestrians to be cautious during the holiday season.

Chicago Motor Club President Gerald W. Cavanagh has emphasized the need for special care when walking or driving in shopping areas during the busy 1972 holiday season.

"Traffic accidents always increase during this time of year," Cavanagh said. "However, if all motorists and pedestrians will be considerate of the other person and obey all traffic rules while practicing courtesy at all times there will be no reason for anyone's holiday season to be marred because of a needless traffic accident."

Cavanagh urged all pedestrians and shoppers to obey traffic signals and cross only at intersections, never from between parked cars. He asked motorists to adjust their driving to road conditions; to signal well in advance of turning, changing traffic lanes, or stopping; to increase their following distance; and to drive at speeds consistent with traffic conditions.

"And if you are giving a party," the motor club president added, "remember to be a friend as well as a good host. Show consideration for guests who will be driving by emphasizing food and fun, rather than alcoholic beverages."

Safety tips

For a safe, as well as a joyful holiday season, Commonwealth Edison urges that care be exercised in the use of Christmas lighting.

Some of the do's and don'ts the company suggests:

- check lighting sets, cords and sockets for loose connections and exposed wires; repair or discard damaged equipment.

- avoid use of nails in securing outside lighting—instead of nails use tape or open-eye hooks for fasteners.

- for outdoor decorations use only lighting sets and extension cords designed for such use. When installing outdoor lights always point the bulbs downward to prevent water from running into sockets.

- don't overload electrical circuits by plugging too many lights into the same outlet. If a fuse blows, relieve the overload or remove the damaged light set, and never replace the fuse with one of higher amperage.

Christmas lighting in Chicago and northern Illinois this year, the company estimates, will require about 300,000 kilowatts of power. That amount of electricity can turn on about 20 million 7½-watt bulbs plus upward of 300 million mini-lights that normally rate at about one-half watt each or less.

Letters to the Editor would rather not sell to you." Upon my request for return of deposit he laughed it off.

Mr. Editor, I am going to send copies of this rebuttal letter to other area newspapers because as I see this...."Truth and Justice are the guidelines". I want the same opportunities that you gave Mr. Holt of Hillcrest Builders — my constitutional rights as a citizen to defend myself from mal practices of a builder and to protect my honor and integrity in the neighborhood are just causes.

Further I am going to contact Beeline, Action Line, Action Express and Action Seven of TV (Flynn and Daly news).

Editor:

I've just been victimized by the second telephone prankster today. My family has lived in this town for three months and have an unlisted number, but children call us anyway and ask if our refrigerator is running (Well, you'd better hurry up and catch it!); or they call several times in succession asking for the same wrong party.

I am certain that these children must be home without their parents' presence. Perhaps they are waiting for the folks to come home from work. At any rate, parents should be made aware of the fact that a non-con telephone is a great "toy" for aggressive kids with nothing else to do but try to irritate someone who cannot retaliate against them. I don't think the kids actually realize that they are being selfish and

Practical holiday note

That bicycle gift can be a weapon

By Glenn Logan

A press release from Springfield says Illinois has launched a safety program to make citizens more aware that bicycles are more than toys. For one thing they cost more than most toys. For another they are more lethal than most toys, with the possible exception of a roller skate left on a darkened stairway.

According to the Bicycle Institute of America there are now 75 million Americans who own bikes, compared to 55 million in the late 1960's, or two bikes for every three automobiles.

The state, the schools and a lot of local police departments are conducting courses to teach bicycle safety. In some areas safety parks have been set up, complete with miniature streets and sidewalks, standard traffic control signs, signals, pavement markings and miniature battery-operated cars. Youngsters who can't ride bikes yet pilot the miniature cars, which should add a bit of spice to the arrangement.

The state has a Rules of the Road booklet for motorists and a Bicycle Rules of the Road booklet which is distributed far and wide and is to be had for the asking. The State Police stations have them. Illinois Driver Examination stations have them, and many of the local police stations have them.

The booklet is filled with information that if followed will accomplish wonders in reducing accidents and fatalities. For instance there is a rule that when one comes to a "Stop" sign—they are those octagonal shaped things, painted red but lettered in white—the rider must stop.

Apparently there are many that can't read, don't believe in signs, or just plain don't give a hang. There are a lot of motorists who ignore stop signs but every once and a while those who ignore them get arrested, especially if the violation has brought on an accident. But the bicycle riders are really the champions when it comes to running stop signs.

They also blithely pursue their way the wrong way on one-way streets and invariably ride against traffic instead of getting with it, like the law says. And among the cyclists who like to live dangerously are those who ride at night without a vestige of light on their machines, and wearing dark colored clothes to boot.

The great State of Illinois, as the legislators say, has enacted a law effective Jan. 1, 1973, that all bicycles sold after that date must be equipped with front and rear reflectors on each pedal.

Individual pedals sold after that date also must have those front and rear reflectors. But there is nothing in the law which effects bikes now on hand. It is said that the circular moving effect of these pedal lights are more likely to be seen by motorists than the fender reflectors.

Bikes sold after July 1, 1973, will have to have additional reflectors, besides the ones on the pedals. They must have reflectors on the front of the bike and the reflectors on the rear of the bike, and on each side of the wheels.

Whether anyone pays any attention to this law, except the bike manufacturers, remains to be seen. I haven't read the law but there must be a provision in it that carries a penalty for the manufacturer or dealer to make or sell bikes with all these lights, and there may even be a penalty included that applies to bike owners or operators but it is a pretty safe bet there will be no prosecution of bike riders.

Ever watch kids riding bikes, wobbling from one side of the road to the other, or ga snaking through traffic against a red light? They are something like the kids that walk out in the middle of streets daring motorists to hit them.

According to this news release from Springfield 50 Illinois citizens were killed and 3,348 injured last year as a result of bike accidents. The national figure for dead cyclists this year is expected to reach 880, as a result of collisions with automobiles and another 130 cyclists are expected to die from other types of accidents involving bikes.

Having seen a large number of bike riders in operation over the years I am surprised that the number of fatalities and the injured is as low as it is.

I remember a father coming to a police station to report the theft of his son's bicycle. He gave police a full description. "If you find it," he concluded, "don't call me. Just take it to some place where no one will pop up and ask you why you are hitting that bicycle with a sledge hammer. Just be sure to hit it hard and break it up. I'd rather have the kid than a bicycle."

Henry Daniels, night janitor at the Arbury Hills school has resigned as of Nov. 8. Edward Sandstrom has been hired on 90 days probation. If approved he will be hired at that time.

Dennis Tahaney, a representative of Hoffman-Roesner, attended the meeting and presented a check for $50,000 as the first payment for the Frankfort Square school. Another payment of $50,000 will be made on Dec. 22 and a payment of $25,000 will be made on Jan. 26.

The treasurer's report and the financial report were given by the Financial Council Chairman Larry Gura. Funds had to be transferred from one fund to another, due to the lateness of the taxes.

They were informed the money would not be available until after the first of the year. Warrants were issued on the Bond and interest Fund, payable out of the Site and Construction Fund.

ICC grants phone raises

The Illinois Commerce Commission has granted Illinois Bell Telephone company a rate raise that will affect subscribers in Mokena, New Lenox, Manhattan, Lemont and Plainfield.

In addition to these towns in the Joliet area there are 35 others, including a number in DuPage County, that are also affected by the price hike.

The raise granted Bell amounts to $1.2 million and covers 260,000 customers.

The increases become effective this Saturday, Dec. 16. For most residential subscribers the hike will run 25 to 30 cents a month and $1 a month for most businesses.

Residential two-party line service will go up 35, 40 or 45 cents; private-branch exchange trunk lines for business will jump $1.75; and semi-public coin service phone service will be up $1 or $1.50.

The ICC explained that the increase was practically automatic because of its ruling in 1970. That ruling created 10 brackets of rates and provided that when the number of phones in an exchange increases to more than allowed in the bracket, the rates may be increased.

A Bell official explained it this way, "As phones are added to a calling area, calling volume increases and that requires additional equipment and cables."

Boundary Talk

WARNING SIGNALS FOR NATURAL DISASTER and OTHER EMERGENCIES

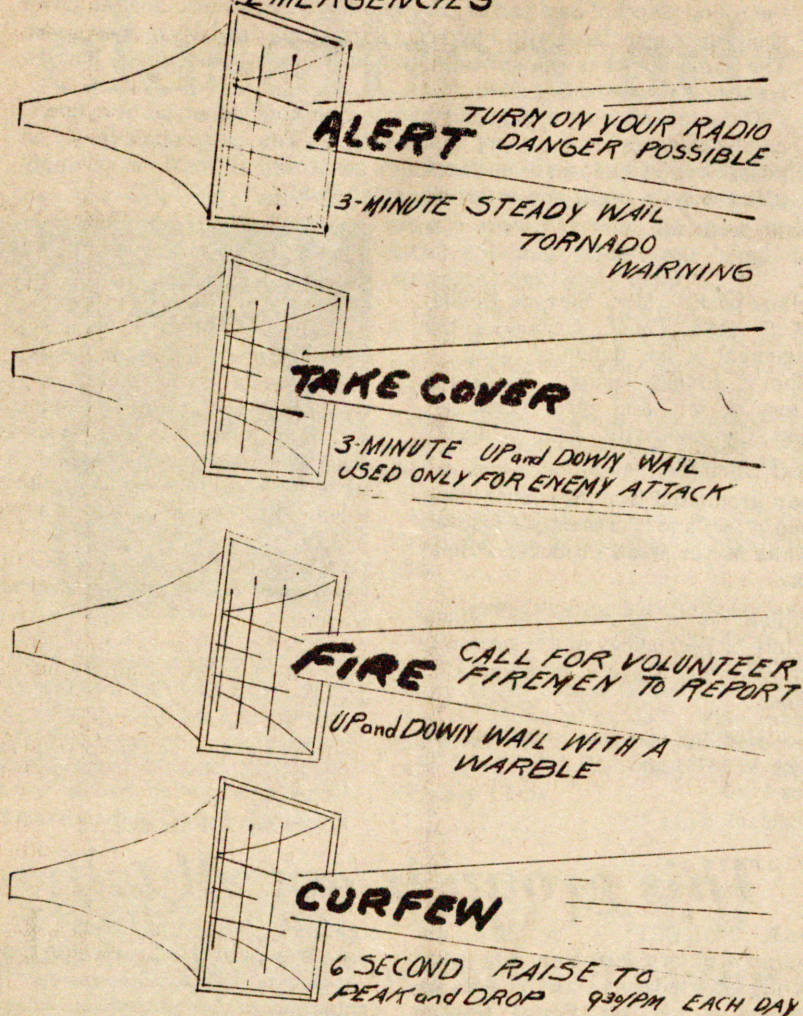

Diagram prepared by Civil Defense Director Russell Bennett of the warning signals to be sounded by Mokena's new siren set-up for various emergencies.

Federal says 'do it'

FRANKFORT — The Frankfort village board at its regular meeting Monday night adopted an ordinance providing for control of industrial waste entering the sanitary sewer system.

Adoption of such a measure is necessary, village Attorney August J. Santoro explained, if the village is to share in any federal grants for recent addition to the treatment plant. What the ordinance does is place a surcharge on the cost of treating industrial waste. The measure sets up a formula for arriving at such charges. Santoro said he was aided in drafting the ordinance through the help given him by Robert E. Hamilton, village engineer.

Household waste is given a certain figure. Industrial users are entitled to the same amount but their sewage is metered or calculated on their water consumption and all waste above the amount allowed householders is subject to extra charge for treatment.

The ordinance also carries a list of "don'ts," such as introducing liquids or vapors in the sewage system that have a temperature higher than 150 degrees Fahrenheit; explosive or flammable mixtures; ashes, cinders, sand, mud, straw, shavings, tar, plastics, feathers, metal, glass, etcetera, et cetera; fats, oils, grease; improperly shredded garbage; corrosive or toxic material and a lot of other things.

Tests are to be ordered by the village and made without preliminary notice with the industry standing the expense.

Relative to the sewer plant, which should be completed by March, Mayor Glenn Warning read the board a letter from the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission (NIPC) to the effect that it is approving a grant of 25 percent from the state and 55 percent from the federal government on the $498,000 addition, contingent upon the fact that Frankfort will become a part of a regional sewage system. The treatment plant to be located on Hickory Creek in the Mokena area will fall into this regional category, and Frankfort will be a part of it.

Burton Breidert, village administrator, told the board he would send them copies of proposed changes in the village sign ordinance, and a measure covering flood plains and prohibiting building in same. NIPC, he said, has suggested the Hickory Creek basin be utilized as open space for recreation.

Breidert also reported that the special census Frankfort is to have taken is slated to begin Jan. 8. Ten to twelve enumerators will be hired for the project. The pay is 11 cents for each name.

Mayor Warning reported that the Joliet city council has changed its mind about the location of the north-south leg of the South Suburban Expressway and now favors the leg that would be east of Lincoln-Way High School instead of west of the school. Frankfort is keeping out of

Long, short of it

MOKENA — Some three weeks ago the siren that summoned members of the Mokena Volunteer Fire Department to report for duty was removed from its 65-foot perch atop the water storage tank and moved to a new location at the west end of the new addition to the fire house.

During that time firemen have been summoned by telephone and radio. But beginning tomorrow (Thursday, Dec. 21,) the siren will be back in service again. It is now located on top of a 35-foot pole.

Civil defense authorities and the siren manufacturer said advised the 35-foot level, saying that at the 65-foot level much of the sound was lost to persons at ground level. Besides fire calls the siren also will be used for Civil Defense and each night at 9:30 it will sound curfew.

"In order to alert the public and indicate the proper action to take in an emergency," said Civil Defense Director Russell Bennett, "the federal, state and local government offices of civil defense have established two warning signals — the attention or alert signal, and the Attack warning signal. "The alert is a three-minute steady wail on the village siren. This signal will be used to get public attention and shall mean to all persons:

- (1) "Listen for essential emergency information.
- (2) "Turn on your radio to a local station.
- (3) "Do not use your telephone.

"The Attack warning signal is a three-minute up and down wail. This means that an actual attack on the country has been detected and that protective action should be taken. THIS SIGNAL WILL BE USED FOR NO OTHER PURPOSE AND WILL HAVE NO OTHER MEANING.

"The objective of the warning program," Bennett continued, "is to provide immediate warning, not only of an enemy attack, but also to assist in spreading the warning of extraordinary dangers such as tornadoes and other potential sources of disaster to areas likely to be effected.

"In order to achieve our objectives it is necessary to establish a uniform test schedule to assure positive recognition of the warning signals."

Bennett said that in Mokena a test of both Civil Defense warnings will be given on the first Tuesday of each month, beginning the first Tuesday in February. In these monthly tests the alert will be sounded for only 1½ minutes. This will be followed by a minute of silence and then the up and down signal for an attack will be sounded for one minute. The signal to call out firemen will be a three-minute up and down wail with a warble.

The curfew will be a rising wail, lasting six seconds. Youngsters under 18 are not supposed to be on the streets or in public spots or buildings after 9:30 p.m. unless accompanied by a parent, guardian or other responsible person of 21 years of age or older, or unless they have permission because of employment.

The 9:30 limit is on from Sunday night through Thursday night. Fridays and Saturdays they are permitted to be out until midnight but the siren will sound every night at 9:30.

The village siren is of the civil defense type, Bennett said, which enables it to be set to emit warbles and various types of wails but it cannot be operated like an alarm clock — turned on today, turned off tomorrow. The siren cannot be set to blow curfew five night a week at 9:30 and remain silent (who would want a siren wailing curfew at midnight) the other two nights, Bennett explained, so it will turn loose every night at 9:30.

Frankfort and New Lenox both signal curfew at 9:30 with a siren, but those signals seem to last a lot longer than six seconds.

Miss Guam pays visit to Tinley

TINLEY PARK — Visiting relatives in Tinley Park this week is the reigning Miss Guam, Mary Lou Pangelinan, 17, of Piti, Guam.

Mary is visiting her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Frostman, who reside at 7757 165th Place, Tinley Park. Mary competed in the Miss World contest in London on Dec. 1. She was among the top 15 finalists in the benefit, which provides money to help crippled children.

She has seen "nothing this modern" during her stay in America, which began last Saturday when she arrived from Europe.

She was especially impressed with the highway network here, and the high speed limits. "The fastest they allow you to drive in Guam is 35 miles per hour," she said.

While in Guam she appeared in her first movie when she was 15. She played a major part in the movie, which was a love story. Last year she had a part in a comedy. Both films were produced by a Japanese motion picture company.

Mary hopes to go into a modelling career, and later wants to break into a film career in Hollywood.

While in Guam she modelled for a Japanese tourist agency, and she worked as a ground hostess for Trans World Airlines in Agana, Guam's capitol.

Poinsetta may flower again with proper year-round care

The Poinsettia, traditional flower of the Christmas season, has been chosen December Plant of the Month.

A Poinsettia plant received during the holidays can be kept in excellent condition, if you follow a few simple rules. Place the plant in a room, near a sunny window, where a constant temperature between 65 and 75 degrees is maintained. Avoid any chilling of the plant, as this will cause the leaves to become yellow and drop. Be sure to give your Poinsettia plant an abundance of water while blooming. Dry air, fluctuations of temperature, gas and insufficient light affect them adversely.

With a little care, your Poinsettia plant can be carried over to flower again next year. The plant should be watered normally until half the leaves have dropped; then, watering should be gradually reduced until the soil is completely dry. At this time, the plant must be placed in storage at a temperature of about 60 degrees.

After the middle of April or in May, cut the plant down to six inches, remove from the pot and repot in new soil, using a mixture of three parts loam, one part leafmold, one part sand, and one and one-half parts well decomposed manure.

Sagitta says if you are presently engaged to be married, this period of Sagittarius — Nov. 23 to Dec. 22 — may be mentally expansive. Jupiter, the ruling planet of Sagittarius governs what we call Luck, and the jovial good-times associated with Jupiterian things lends festivity to your plans. The same planet is related to church matters, so you might now be reserving your wedding date.

The same influence could contribute to your honeymoon plans to travel and be outdoors in spite of our winter setting. You, as a couple may find yourselves trying to outdo one another's generosity at this time, certainly a fine way to begin any enduring relationship.

Orland park — Mrs. Norrene Biddle, 15825 S. 113th Court, announces the engagement of her daughter, Jean, to William E. Brooks, Lemont. William is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Claire F. Brooks, Campbellsville, Ky., formerly of Crystal Lake, Ill.

Jean graduated from Sandburg High School in 1971 and is presently employed at White Meyer Wood Products, Orland Park.

William is a graduate of Illinois Institute of Technology and is presently employed at Staly Chemical Co., Lemont.

The wedding day has been set for March 3, 1973, and will take place in Palos Park.

This group is not all talk

OAK FOREST — A new environmental organization has been recently started in Oak Forest by members of the Oak Forest Garden Club. The Ecology Group, as the 15 women in the organization are calling themselves, was started "not just to talk about ecology, but to do something about it," in the words of Mrs. Karen Page, of 15406 Arroyo Drive, co-chairman.

The group is presently working on plans for a major city-wide ecology drive for next spring. "It will take awhile to get the whole thing organized," Mrs. Page said. "That's why we're getting an early start now."

As part of the drive, the group will be contacting in the weeks to come Oak Forest school clubs, civic organizations, and other community oriented organizations in an effort to obtain as much involvement as possible by Oak Foresters. Their goal is to set aside one month next spring for such activities as community clean-up and glass and paper recycling. "We hope to make a concentrated effort for ecology during that month," Mrs. Page said.

Santa may need a classified ad

Dear Santa
I suppose this will come as a big disappointment to you but I really have no choice.

I won't be riding with you this year. I've had it.

In other words, Gramps, this is one reindeer that won't be leading the way this year and don't give me that jazz about a "foggy night."

Three hundred and sixty-four days a year I listen to those eight creeps make fun of me and then about 4:30 every Christmas — Eve — if it happens to look the least little bit hazy — everyone gets real chummy.

Well, I'm not buying it again this year. My left hoof still hurts from last year and don't tell me you don't remember what happened. No one could possibly forget that night. I had just gotten the whole crew settled on top of a small capepod rooftop when Dancer decided to show off his fancy footwork and the whole crew ended up in the bushes. Boy, what a show that was. All those little kids watching while you tried to straighten out those "clods."

No, Santa, baby. This is it. I have been offered a contract for a one-shot deal that won't involve cloddy team-mates, bad weather and last minute flight changes. I'm signing the contract tomorrow so as of Friday I will be employed by Peter Cottontail, Inc.

His company is not as big as yours but the higher-ups have a great promotional idea.

I am going to wear a white fuzzy suit, cover my antlers with long strips of white cotton, and sit in for the Easter bunny at the White House annual egg roll in Washington, D.C. The rabbit that previously held the position is being sent on a good will tour of foreign Playboy Clubs.

Love, Rudolph

Almost half the adult female population now works outside of home

The number of women in the labor force has increased from less than 20 million to over 30 million in the last twenty years. It is estimated that close to 45 per cent of all adult women are holding down jobs, either full-time or part-time, outside the home, as compared with less than 35 per cent in the early 1950's.

The overall labor force participation among single women is about 53 per cent. For married women, the participation rate is roughly 41 per cent and the rate for widowed, separated, and divorced women is 40 per cent.

A sharp increase in women in the labor force who have children under six years old is evident as the latest figures show that 30 per cent of mothers in this category work.

Nearly 70 per cent of the additional 13 million women in the labor force in the last twenty years found white collar jobs. Somewhat over 3 million women entered service trades, while slightly over 1 million entered blue collar jobs.

About 35 per cent of all women employed in the labor force work in offices, compared to about 27 per cent of two decades ago. The number of women pursuing professional and technical employment rose from 13 per cent to 15 per cent in the same period, while factory employment decreased from 22 per cent to 16 per cent.

Apparently all sectors of the American female population are eager to get a foothold in the working world. Their reasons may be economic or it may simply be that they desire to put their college training to work. Possibly they are seeking liberation from their homemaker duties.

Birth control pill can cause hair difficulty

Birth control pills can cause baldness in women, according to an article in Coronet magazine.

"Starting or stopping the pills throws your hormones off balance and this can play havoc with hair growth unless the condition is remedied," says the article.

The first realization that women in increasing numbers are losing their hair comes from dermatologists, many of whom are reporting ten times as many cases as a decade ago. The emergence of the problems in these proportions the last 10 years coincides with increased usage of birth control pills during that period.

According to the article, the pill isn't the only reason that there has been a significant increase in the number of women going bald. Severe emotional disturbance has been cited as another contributing cause, triggered, perhaps, by increasing tensions fostered by uncertain world conditions, and social and environmental awareness and upheaval.

"Too much emotional strain can increase the output of androgen, the male hormone, which in turn affects the hair follicles-causing a noticeable drop in hair production," explains Coronet.

However, drugs that counteract androgen are being studied intensively at present and noted researchers predict a cure for baldness within the next few years.

Key to success

Measuring ingredients accurately is the key to success in baking. Here are some suggestions to help you improve your baking:

Use standard measuring cups and spoons. When measuring liquids, set the measuring cup on a flat surface to check the measure at eye level.

To measure flour and meal, spoon the unsifted flour or meal lightly into a measuring cup until it is overflowing. Do not tap or shake the cup. Then level off the top with the straight edge of a knife or spatula. Because all-purpose flour and cake flour are finely milled, sifting is not necessary.

To measure solid fats, pack the fat firmly into a measure and level it off with a knife or spatula. If the solid fat is packaged in sticks of blocks, measuring is simplified. A one-pound block measures about two cups; a stick of butter or margarine, half a cup.

Board raises president's salary

ORLAND PARK — Acknowledging that any compensation would be inadequate the Orland Park Village Board passed an ordinance increasing the salary of the Village President from $2,000 to $3,000 annually.

In the special Saturday, Dec. 16, meeting the board also increased the president's compensation as the Liquor Control Commissioner from $1,200 to $2,000. The measure had to be acted upon before Dec. 17 to meet legal requirements.

The increase will not affect the present village president and will become effective after the next general election April 17. The incumbent Melvin Doogan has announced his candidacy for a third term after serving 22 years on the village board.

The ordinance was introduced by Trustee Jon Anderson who had unwittingly defeated a similar salary increase ordinance at the regular Board meeting Dec. 11. At that time the recommendation was to increase the salary of the village president to $5,000, and his compensation as Liquor Control Commissioner to $1,800. Although there were three "aye" votes, Anderson's "nay" vote defeated the measure insofar as four "ayes" are needed for passage of an ordinance. Doogan refused to cast the deciding vote saying, "I don't think it's fair to me to vote."

Doogan had previously voiced favor of the measure saying an increase "gives an incentive to people to run for the office." He added the office requires an individual having to take many days off from his personal employment to carry on village business.

Anderson later explained his vote by saying a financial return cannot properly compensate a man doing the job of Orland's village president. He added that he did not realize at the time that his negative vote would kill the measure, but he voted his belief.

In introducing the successful ordinance reflecting the lower salary increase Anderson said the salaries of village presidents in 10 neighboring communities were surveyed. The survey indicated an average salary is $3,000, with the exception of Oak Lawn which pays its president more than 2½ times the next mayoral salary in the survey. In addition Oak Lawn pays a full time village manager.

The survey also showed that the average salary of the Liquor Control Commissioner was $1,830. Villages surveyed, and selected at random, were Blue Island, Oak Lawn, Worth, Oak Forest, Midlothian, Tinley Park, Markham, South Holland, Palos Park and Palos Heights.

After Anderson said that, "If a village president works half as hard and has half as much interest in the village as Mr. Doogan has in Orland Park this compensation is inadequate," the board passed the ordinance that was seconded by Harley Uthe. Five "ayes" were cast with one "nay" registered by Trustee Roger Frantz who chaired the meeting in the absence of Doogan.

Later Frantz, who apparently felt the salary was inadequate for the time required by the office, explained by his "nay" saying, "I think the first ordinance was appropriate."

The increase does not reflect out-of-pocket expenses incurred by the president and which are provided for in addition to his salary.

Consideration of increases in trustee compensations will be given at a later time.

Doogan won't accept raise if reelected

ORLAND PARK — Village President Melvin Doogan says he wants no part of the increase voted to the office of the village president and the Liquor Control Commissioner. Rather than accept the increment of $1,800 Doogan will donate the money to charity if he is elected next April to a third term.

When reminded that the increase was voted to compensate the village president for time missed from his regular employment while on Village business Doogan repeated firmly his intent not to accept the increase. "I'm not rich; but I don't need that money," he added with a tinge of pride.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER BY BOB HIRSCH

The circumstances of Christ's birth in a manger, the miracle of the Star of Bethlehem, the three wise men and their gifts, are only a prelude to the spiritual reality of Christmas. It takes the complete story of His life, from birth to crucifixion, and particularly His three short years of ministry, to reveal the entire spiritual reality of Christmas. At Christmas we of course honor the Man who was born on Christmas. (It actually was not on that date, but that is unimportant. . . . We still celebrate His birthday). . . . We dishonor His birthday with monstrous sham and artificiality, if we accept Him and His teachings on Christmas and reject Him a day or week later.

The spiritual reality of Christmas is really a story about a way of life. When we scuffle His way of life and refuse His presence in our hearts on other days, we dishonor Him — and ourselves. . . . Our sincere Christmas wish for all of you who read this is that you have a Very Merry Christmas on December 25 — AND the spiritual reality of it every day thereafter. . . .

Join in party

WESTHAVEN — The Westhaven Homeowners Association and the Westhaven Woman's Community Club have planned a Christmas party for the children of the village. The party although open to all the children of the village was on a reservation basis list only and reservations had to be in by Dec. 5. Only families on the list will be admitted to the Orland Chateau the night of the party and all children under 13 must be accompanied by at least one parent.

The party will be held Thursday night, Dec. 21, starting at 7 o'clock. There will be an 18 piece band from Carl Sandburg High School to play Christmas carols so the group can have a sing along with the Girls Club from the Woman's Club. Around 7:30 refreshments in the order of pop, ice cream and pop corn balls will start being served to every child present.

After refreshments the children can expect the arrival of Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus. Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus have been busy wrapping gifts for all the children attending the party. Mrs. Santa Claus also has promised all the children will receive a candy cane.

Before each child receives his or her gift from Santa there are other gifts to be given away. There will also be a boys and girls bike given away to some lucky boy and girl to make their Christmas just that much happier.

Master of Ceremonies for the evening will be Terry Poia, president of the Westhaven Homeowners Association. He will be helped out by some clowns to keep the party going and making sure everyone gets a chance to see Santa Claus.

Biblical sites seen

ORLAND PARK — Spending Christmas Eve in Nazareth and Christmas Day in Caesarea is on the travel agenda of the Rev. Bob Lothenore, pastor of the Orland Park Church of the Nazarene.

Pastor Bob's trip was made possible through the financial contributions of the contractor and subcontractors who have constructed the new church and parsonage at 147th Street and 94th Avenue. "This is the first time anything like this has happened to me," said the pastor in his southern drawl.

Chief's plea for safty

On behalf of the Tinley Park Police Dept., Chief Kenneth C. O'Brien wishes to extend the departments sincerest wishes and greeting for the Christmas and New Years seasons, and at this time ask that all citizens make this a very safe and enjoyable period.

Sandburg has nursery school

ORLAND PARK — Again this year, as part of the curriculum, Carl Sandburg High School, will have an eight-week nursery school in the afternoons for three and four year old children.

Miss Carol Podewell, the instructor, advises that there will be two afternoon sessions, and each session lasts for two hours. One begins at 11:45 a.m. and ends at 1:45 p.m. on Mondays and Wednesday. The other is from 1:45 p.m. to 3:45 Tuesday and Thursday. The children will come twice a week for eight weeks beginning March 19.

The high school students will first learn the role the child plays in the family structure, prenatal and postnatal care of infants, techniques in handling children, and the four phases of child development of the preschooler: physical, intellectual and language, social and personality and emotional.

The Child Development Lab, Level 2, is a new course for those students already completing the first semester in Child Care. They will first learn the rules and theories of setting up a licensed day care center. They also will learn advance techniques of handling and communicating with children and selecting toys and materials for children. These high school students will then plan a 12-week 3-hour session in the mornings for four year olds. The session will begin Feb. 19, on four days a week, Monday through Thursday, from 8:45 a.m. to 11:45 a.m.

Upcoming meeting topic of discussion

MOKENA — Another long dragged-out session of the Mokena Village board was held last week and one of the subjects discussed was the meeting that is scheduled for Wednesday night of this week at which the village board, the plan commission and the zoning board will discuss the pre-annexation petition of the Doogan farm developers.

However, nothing final is to be forthcoming as a result of this week's meeting, was indicated. A final decision will be made at a later meeting. At the Nov. 28 session of the village board the members went over a lengthy pre-annexation agreement prepared by Larry Wennlund, attorney for Sidney Bloom and Tom Phillips, who propose to develop the Doogan farm, which lies west of Wolf road and east of the Owens Land Trust property, in which Bloom and Phillips also are interested. The board wanted many changes and a new agreement was drawn up and copies given the village zoning board of appeals.

However, there were no copies available for the village board at its session last week. They were expected to have them this week and the plan commission too was to be furnished with them. But the subject will be discussed, and probably at some length, it was said.

Residents west of the Gaba-Plebanek apartments on Wolf Road, between 193rd and 194th Streets, complained to the council about water coming on to their properties. The owners of the apartments are to build a retaining wall along the west edge of the property to prevent this run off but it was brought out that because of weather conditions the wall could not be built now. It is expected to be in place about May 1, it was said.

Meanwhile the builders of the apartment are having their own water troubles — a lot of it has collected under one of the buildings under construction and was being pumped out.

Because of the holidays the village board will not meet Dec. 26, its scheduled meeting date. Its next meeting will be held at 7:30 a.m., Jan. 9.

STYX rock concert

MIDLOTHIAN — On Dec. 23 a rock concert featuring STYX will be held at St. Christopher School gym, 14611 S. Koeler Ave.

The 8 to 11:30 p.m. event also will feature the "Rude Awakening". Admission will be $2 and refreshments will be sold.

Titans still looking for winning combination in conference play

TINLEY PARK — The Tinley Park High School Titans basketball squad suffered two losses this past weekend, one in Southeast Suburban Conference action.

On Friday, in the SES game, the Titans bowed to the Warriors of Crete-Monee High School 69-61, playing on the Warrior court.

Then, on Saturday in a non-conference match at home, the Titans lost to the Joliet East High Schools Kingsmen 66-60.

As Friday night's game opened, neither Tinley Park nor Crete-Monee had achieved victory in conference activity. Both stood with an 0-2 record for SES play.

As a result of the loss to Crete-Monee, the Tinley Park club lingers at the bottom of the Southeast standings.

The Titans seemed unable to get their feet off the ground and the basketball into the hoop as the Warriors outscored the visitors for three of the four periods of the game.

Only in the third quarter did the Titans excel, taking charge by an 18-14 margin. The rest of the game belonged to the C-M squad.

High point man for the Titans was 6-1 forward Terry Shannon who managed a mere 11 points. Following close behind on the scoresheets were Ed Neal and Steve Nelson, both with 10 points.

Meanwhile, Crete-Monee's Karel Kewquest dunked the ball for a 20 point total for the game.

In Saturday's game, Tinley led for three of the four periods of game play but was unable to overcome the powerhouse exhibited by the Joliet East Kingsmen during the second quarter when they doubled the Titan score.

Tinley was on top 16-12 in the fourth period. But the East team held a 24-12 margin for period two.

Carey Nixon of East was high point man for the performance with a 26 point tally. On the Tinley Park side, Ed Marcette held the honors with an 18 point total.

Marcette was eight for 15 from the floor and two for two from the freethrow line. He also led the Titan squad in rebounds with a total of 10.

Overall, rebounding helped the East team as they gained a total of 35 to 28 rebounds for the Titans.

Tinley will face St. Joseph at home in Non-conference activity this Friday. The team will participate in the Brees Mator Dei Tournament Dec. 28, 29, 30.

Tinley Park's Gary Marcotte (42) tips the ball in the basket Saturday as Joliet East Kingsman Carey Nixon (11) watches. Also on hand to witness the performance is the Titans' Rod Bothwell (20). Tinley lost the event 66-60.

It was a game of reaching for the skies as the Celtics of Providence High School invaded the gym of the Little Flower Lancers Friday. Coach Pat Sullivan's Celtics topped the Lancers 87-67 in the Private School League meet.

Celtics close out games on Little Flower court

CHICAGO — Providence High School Coach Pat Sullivan certainly had no doubts about the power of his Celtic basketball squad Friday, as the young masters of the hardwood romped with the Little Flower High School Lancers and then traveled back to New Lenox with a 87-67 victory.

For the Celtics, it was the last visit to the court of longtime rival Little Flower, which will be closing its doors with the end of the current school year.

Little Flower's position in the Private School League, in which Providence also participates, is expected to be taken by Aurora Central High School.

Providence's Roy King was outstanding scorer for the evening, chalking up a total of 30 points. King hit 14 for 20 from the floor and was two for two from the freethrow line.

Adding to King's contribution for the evening was his ability to remain in the game for the entire four periods. In recent games, King has been heavy on personal fouls and has found it difficult to remain in the competition for the entire competition.

Also adding to the excellent Providence scoring was Percy Mabry who blew the scoreboard lights with a 16 point performance. Mabry hit five for 10 at field goals and was six for nine at freethrows.

Center Lenny Branchaw, a sophomore and only tallman on the Celtic squad pulled in a 15 point tally for the game. Senior Pete Mandella has 12 points.

Providence took the lead in the first quarter and continued their excellent offensive and defensive action throughout the game. They outscored the Lancers 22-17 for the first period while falling behind by only one point, 20-19, for the second period.

In the third quarter the Celtics were ahead 19-16, and in the final period they held the edge 27-14.

Both squads exhibited balanced activity at the boards with Providence managing 25 rebounds to 22 for Little Flower. The Celtics will next see action at the Lemont Invitational Tournament, Dec. 26, 27, 28.

Knight fortunes reverse in Southwest Conference

NEW LENOX — The Knights of Lincoln-Way High School suffered a 58-40 loss at the hands of Bremen High School this past weekend, firmly establishing them deep in the collar of Southwest Suburban Conference standings.

The Knights, who took the SWS basketball title last season, entered Friday's game with Bremen tied with Reavis High School for last place in the Southwest conference. While Reavis moved up the ladder by topping the Sandburg High School team on Friday, however, the Knights took sole possession of the last place position.

Dennis Cleveland was high scorer for the Knights with a 17 point total. A 5-11 junior guard, Cleveland scored the majority of his points from the free throw line where he hit 11 for 15. He was three for four at field goal attempts.

Center Greg Gleaves was high pointer for Bremen with 24 points. Gleaves was 11 for 21 at field goals and two for three from the line.

Lincoln-Way entered the second half trailing by four points, having lost the first quarter 12-10 and the second quarter 14-12. During the third period the Knights managed to tie the score with a 10-6 scoring edge over Bremen. Then came the fourth quarter and the Braves' margin of victory.

While the Knight scored a mere eight points for the fourth period, the Bremen squad moved ahead with a 26 point tally to establish the victory.

Bremen likewise controlled the boards, attaining 24 rebounds to 15 for the Knights.

Lincoln-Way now prepares for a match with Reavis this Friday. The team will play at the DeKalb Invitational Dec. 27-30.

Santa rings out Christmas tidings, for it's the merriest season of all! To that, add our best wishes. Thanks, loyal customers, one and all.

Eagle rally fails in 64-57 loss; try to balance record Thursday

By Tim Lumley
 ORLAND PARK — The Carl Sandburg High School Eagles suffered another tough loss to Reavis 64-57 last Friday night at Reavis.

The Eagles started the game very slow, falling behind as they missed many scoring opportunities. The Eagles did not give up though, as they battled within two points of Reavis by the beginning of the fourth quarter. Steve Lietke was the spark plug for the Eagles' surge as he came off the bench to score 18 points. Ron Weiland of the Eagles also proved he wanted to play as he came off the bench to score nine points and keyed the Eagle offense.

Once again the Eagles big men could not push the Eagles over the hump to win. Reavis just kept pressuring the Eagles into turnovers. Coach Ron Pace was disappointed after the game as he said, "We have to keep trying to improve our defense and stop the other team from scoring 60 points a game." The eagles' record now stands at 1-3 and 1-2 in conference play.

The Eagles' next game will be against Bremen Thursday night at Sandburg, game time at 8 p.m.

Asking Coach Pace what the Eagles must do to stop Bremen he said, "They have a very good shooting guard and a tough rebounding center so we must play defense and hit the boards well if we expect to win."

ORLAND PARK — This week in OYA basketball, Sunrise Heating beat a tough Stone Moody team 19-12 in a good defensive battle. Tim Kecerowski scored almost all of Stone Moody's points with 10 points. Leading scorer for Sunrise Heating was David Buck with 10 points. Republican Party had a good day on offense as they walked by Lions Club, 24-

13. Rich Schwarz led all scorers for Republican Party with 10. Leading scorer for Lions Club was John Anderson with six points.

Later in the week, Three Sons smashed Andrews, 32-18. Bill Gerlech and Terry Lacher were the leading scorers for Three Sons. Joe Edcull lead in points for Andrews with eight.

Reavis surprise Eagle wrestlers in first loss

ORLAND PARK — The Carl Sandburg wrestling team suffered its first setback of the season to Reavis 27 - 24 last Friday night at Sandburg in a duel meet. This loss really hurt the Eagles because it was their first conference meet of the year.

Winners for the Eagles were Mark Butz, pinning his opponent at 98 pounds, John Fitzpatrick winning on a decision at 105 pounds, and undefeated letterman Mike Bronson winning on a decision at 112 pounds. The Eagles downfall came in the weight classes of 119, 126, 155 pounds as all the boys at those weights got pinned.

Other winners for the Eagles were Russ McGill, Joe Franks and Rusty Vincent on a pin. Coach Don Schultz, bitterly disappointed with the Eagles, said "We are a much better team than Reavis, and we should have won." Coach Schultz also commented, "I hate to lose to Reavis, but they were really fired up for this meet."

The next afternoon, Rich Central came to Sandburg to wrestle. The Eagles bounced back with class as they walked over Rich Central 34-15. Mark Butz, John Keane and Mike Bronson all undefeated as varsity wrestlers won their matches with Keane winning on a pin. Joe Little came back with a win at 229 pounds and Mike Keane also came back as he pinned his opponent at 126 pounds.

Steady Russ McGill at 132 pounds won once again for the Eagles. Joe Franks settled for a tie and Mark Erickson won a very tough match at 167 pounds. Rusty Vincent wrapped things up with a 15-0 win over his opponent.

Coach Schlitz said after the meet, "With this win over Rich Central who had earlier in the year wiped out Reavis, we proved to ourselves we are better than Reavis." The Eagles record now stands at 6-1 and 0-1 in conference. The Eagles next meets are Thursday at Stagg starting at 7 p.m. and Saturday afternoon in the Dixon Invitational at Dixon.

Sandburg swimmers capture seventh Alge contest honors

ORLAND PARK — Last Friday night, Carl Sandburg's tankman sunk Tinley Park 51-44 in their seventh annual alge meet.

At Gillberg of the Eagles had a good night as he won in the 100 and 200-yard freestyle events. Don Tanis came through with a win in the 400-yard freestyle and Jeff King won the 100-yard Breaststroke. Dave Proksen of the Eagles improved his own Sandburg record in the 200-yard individual medley. His time was a remarkable 2:08.4 Proksen also won in the 100-yard backstroke.

Records did not just end with Proksen, as the very talented diver Jim Mantell broke Sandburg's diving record with 274.25 points.

Coach Gillberg said, "We got fired up for this meet because it was against my brother's team and it was the alge meet." Coach Gillbert also commented, "Our boys did a fine job and looked very good tonight."

The next night on Saturday things were not so bright for the Eagles as they lost to a tough Thornwood team 53-42.

The meet was much closer than the score as the Eagles lost on the last event which was the freestyle. Don Huffman, Jeff King, Gary Stephens and Jim Adame combined to win the 200-yard medley relay for the Eagles in the early going. Dave Proksen looked strong again as he took the 100-yard breaststroke and Jim Mantell won the diving for the Eagles.

Coach Gillberg said, "They had better freestylers than us, but we still had many good individual performances in other events." The Eagles next meet is Saturday at Thornridge starting at 2 p.m.

Varsity Gold wins dual

By Chris and Barb Spieg
ORLAND PARK — Friday, Nov. 17, the Annual Blue-Gold Interscholastic swimming meet was held at Carl Sandburg High School. The team was split into the Blue Squad and the Gold Squad and the swimmers swam competitively against each other. Although not an influence on Conference standings, this meet helps to determine which swimmers will swim in each event, and gives swimmers who are new to the team much needed experience.

Beginning the meet at 7 p.m. was a test of the pool's new automatic timing system, and an introduction to four of Sandburg's former all-time great swimmers: Terry Brazel, Tinker Lysen, Alan Stelter and Paul Stelter. On the freshmen level, the Blue Squad took the lead and kept it until the 300 yard freestyle, where the Gold Squad took over, and went on to win, 64-43. First places were turned in for the Blue Squad by the 200 yard medley relay team of Gary Peele, Dan Rosengren, Doug Broadway, Walter Albecker, Dennis Gorecke and Kevin Secord. For the Gold Squad, first places were taken by Don Cook, John Irving, Bill Smetans and Mike Henry, aided by both heats of the 400 yard freestyle relay teams of Ray Baggett, Don Cook, Bret Hultquist, Rich Kent, John Irving, Kris Katschke, Mike Henry and Bill Smetana.

The sophomore Blue Squad was able to keep its edge on the Gold Squad until the 100 yard freestyle, but then the Gold Squad finally won, 51-48. Proving to be tough competition for the sophomores was freshman Andy Andrew who took two individual first places and swam on a first place relay for the Gold Squad. Other Gold Squad firsts were Gary Flondor, Bob Buddig, Ed Mroz and the second heat of the 400 yard relay team of George Renaldi, Ed Mroz, Paul Douglas and Andy Andrew.

The Blue Squad took its first places from the 200 yard medley relay team of Bill Stone, Tom Gee, Ken Koldenhoven, Pat Bryan and Fred Peters, and the first heat of the 400 yard freestyle relay team of Ken Koldenhoven, Pat Bryan, Mike Bolob and Bill Cowan. For obvious reasons, Coach Tom Seliga seems pleased with both his freshmen and sophomore teams.

The varsity Gold Squad swam away with the lead at the very beginning and won the meet, 61-37, making the overall score for the meet, Blue-128 to Gold-176. First places were taken by Al Gillberg, Paul Wysocki and Jeff King of the Blue Squad, and for the Gold Squad by the 200 yard medley relay team of Dave Prosen, Eric Nelson, Gary Stephens and Paul Douglas.

Swimmers taking individual first places for the Gold Squad were all included in the two winning heats of the 400 yard freestyle relay teams of Gary Stephens, Dave Prosen, Paul Jensen, Jim Mantell, Don Tanis, Eric Nelson, Gary Flondor and Rick Hackel. Coach Alan Gillberg was enthusiastic about the performance turned in by his varsity team.

Diving Coach Brian Vandenberg was happy with the performance of his diving team, which at this meet included Steve Tarr, Garry Marthaler, Curt Adams, Ken Yero, and seniors Jim Mantell and Ray Zabelski. He also seemed quite amused when Mantell and Zabelski had to swim in the last varsity relay.

Sports Shorts

TINLEY PARK — The Tinley Park High School swim team got off to a great start by defeating both Evergreen Park and Joliet.

The varsity came splashing into victory with a score of Evergreen Park - 36, TPHS - 59, and Joliet East - 11, TPHS - 70, Joliet West - 26, TPHS - 69, Joliet Central - 17, TPHS - 77.

Randy Muys, Paul Ercius, Jeff Muys and Bill Guilfoyle have all placed first at least twice in these two meets.

The TPHS divers are doing very well this year, and once again Dave Nolan leads the varsity divers.

The Tinley sophomores met defeat against Evergreen Park with a score of 21-74. The following week, however, they were victorious over Joliet with the score of 81-9.

ORLAND PARK — The Carl Sandburg High School sophomore basketball team made it three in a row last Friday night as they thumped Reavis, 49-38.

The Eagles, looking sluggish in the first half, only led the Rams by one point, 19-18, at halftime. By the middle of the third quarter though, the Eagles were cruising with 10 and 11 point leads. Cory Overguard, Dave Koch, Steve Decker, Tim Lumley, Pat Malone and Mike Stuart once again turned in fine team performances for the Eagles. Coach Reynolds, pleased with the Eagles win said, "We started slow against a good team, but came back with good rebounding and defense." The Eagles have a 3-1 record with a 2-1 record in conference. The Eagles have one game left before the holidays, this Thursday night, against Bremen at Sandburg, game time at 6:30 p.m.

ORLAND PARK — Last Thursday the Orland Junior High School Eagles breezed to an easy 60-31 victory over Conrady at Orland. Jeff Adams pumped in 13 points to lead the Eagles in scoring. Jim Stawarz and Pat Nelson contributed 10 points each and played tough defense.

ORLAND PARK — The Southwest Federal Savings and Loan Association of Chicago has applied to the Federal Home Loan Bank Board for permission to locate in Orland Park.

The Association, presently located at 3325 W. 63rd Street in Chicago, would like to designate its home office in Orland Park retaining its present office as a branch office for a period of time.

A spokesman for the association said several sites are under consideration in the vicinity of 143rd Street and La Grange Road. However, specific plans have not been detailed pending the result of the application.

The Loan Association is 90 years old and has been in its present location for eight years.

Enough business for all — Gee

ORLAND PARK — "There should be enough business out here for everyone," was the comment of George Gee, Jr., director-cashier of the Orland State Bank. Gee was reacting to the news of the rash of banks and savings and loan associations seeking permission to relocate in the Orland area.

The Orland State Bank itself is in the talking stage of building an addition in the form of a drive-in bank on 143rd Street, east of LaGrange Road. The Bank owns land on 143rd between the Union 76 Station and Cooper Auto Body & Towing, and property to the south of there and around the back of the Robert Hall Store. Gee said discussion of the Bank's plans is premature, but added he felt something would be done by next summer.

Blood assurance program

ORLAND PARK — Paul Silve, president of the newly-formed Orland Park Jaycees, recently acknowledged the organization's sponsorship of a proposed Blood Assurance Program which would provide for the blood needs of the populace of Orland Township for a year.

According to Silve, a voluntary donation of blood by four percent of the residents — approximately 400 of the 10,000 people — would assure the blood needs for the entire population for a full year at no cost and with no obligation to replace the blood used.

The Blood Assurance Program, to be implemented by the Beverly Blood Bank's donor program, will only be as successful as the general public will allow. "We need the support of all local organizations, churches, businesses, groups and individuals," Silve said. "In order for it to be totally successful, we need the full cooperation of everyone we can enlist."

To generate enthusiasm, a meeting has been set for Wednesday, Jan. 17, at the Administration Building.

NEW LENOX — Celtic Coach Pat Sullivan admitted early Friday afternoon that he had been receiving quite a bit of ribbing for having staged a battle between his Providence High School cagers and the Thunderbirds of Thornwood High School.

For all practical considerations, Providence did not even approach the much taller and more highly rated Thornwood squad. Maybe that is what those who were ribbing Sullivan had thought, and maybe that is what the Thunderbirds had thought, but obviously the Celtics had thought differently.

As Friday's exhibition at the Providence gym turned out, the Celtics had indeed lost. But the loss was a sweet one for Sullivan and his cagers as they gave the Thunderbirds a magnificent evening of competition though bowing in a 66-62 defeat.

For Providence the loss could be attributed to one factor: an inability to keep three key men out of the foul column. As Roy King, Len Branchaw, and John Buchanan made their exits from the game due to fouls, the hopes of a Celtic victory became more and more minimal. Adding to the complications was the departure of senior Dick Mandella suffering from a thigh bruise.

Providence's Percy Mabry topped all scoresheets with a 23 point tally for the game. Mabry was 10 and 16 at field goal attempts and hit three for three in tries from the free throw line.

King ranked second in scoring with 19 points. He was six for 14 at field goals and seven for nine at freethrows.

Top scorer for Thornwood was Scott Pallay with 14 tally.

The final closeness of scores between the two teams was present from the outset of the game. In first period play, the T-birds managed to take the quarter by a slim 15-12 margin.

The Celtics rallied during the second period, however and gained 20 points to 19 for Thornwood.

In the third quarter it was the Thunderbirds on top again as they attained 12 points to eight for the Celtics. Then, in the final period, another burst forward by Providence for a quarter tally of 22 to 20 for Thornwood.

In this weekend's activity, Providence will host Timothy Christian Friday for Private School League competition.

ORLAND PARK — Coach Marcia Murphy of Carl Sandburg's tennis team reports that they ended the season with five wins and one loss. Eight girls received letters at the awards banquet, and they were: Shirley Pleyys, Barb Baggott, Tia Karampelas, Debbie Koehler, Laura Reagan, Meg Carney and Margaret Range and Pat O'Donnell.

Participating were Rita Polita, Pat O'Donnell, Laura Reagan, Janice Dunne, Cheryl Goodkind, Cheryl Sraga, Karen Bartlett, Meg Carney, Shirley Pleyys, Tia Karampelas, Barb Baggott, Janet Richards, Debbie Koehler and Margaret Range.

ORLAND PARK — The Carl Sandburg sophomore basketball team evened its record at 1-1 last Friday, as they thumped Oak Lawn 42-28 in a fine team effort. Corey Overguard, Steve Decker, Pat Malone, Tim Lumley, Dave Koch and Mike Stuart all played superior games.

Coach Bill Reynolds said after the game, "We made some mistakes, but our great desire and hustle won it for us."

The next night, Saturday, the Sophomore Eagles put it together again as they wiped out Argo 53-30 at Sandburg. Once again it was a team effort with the same players turning in top offensive and defensive performances. Coach Reynolds commented, "I was very pleased with our defense for we held Argo to just 10 points in the first half and that is what wins ball games."

The Sophomore Eagles' record now is at 2-1 for the season. The sophs will play Reavis this Friday at Reavis with the game beginning at 6:30 p.m.

ORLAND PARK — In Orland Youth Association (OYA) basketball competition for the third and fourth graders, Sunrise Heating beat the Lyons Club, 16-10. The Republican Party smashed Stone Moody, 24-8.

In the fifth and sixth grade competition, Cooper Show Ford took an easy one from Orland Plaza, 35-21. Leading scorer for Cooper Show Ford was Mike Rott who pumped in 12 points. The high scorer for the Plaza was Steve Steen with 10.

IGA clobbered Terry's Lincoln Mercury by a score of 44-21. Big scorer of the night was Don Cutra. He had over half of IGA's points with 27. Herb Rob was leading scorer for Terry's Lincoln Mercury with 9. Rafacz lost to Orland State Bank 36-28.

ORLAND PARK — The Carl Sandburg freshman "A" basketball team played its first game last Saturday morning at Sandburg which also was the first game played in the new gym.

The Eagles took the lead early in the game and kept it to win, 47-39 over the Lincoln Way Knights.

The "B" team also won by a close score of 28-27.

ORLAND PARK — The Junior High School Basketball squad ran its win streak to three straight games last week as they killed Arbury Hills 84-20.

Returning starters from last year's 17-0 team Jeff Adams and James Stawartz scored 16 and 10 points to pace Orland to an easy victory. Coach Ron Paulson, who was very pleased with Orland's win, said, "We are very fortunate to have Jeff Adams, Pat Nelson and first team all-conference star James Stawartz back with us this year." Coach Paulson also praised Tony Hensel, Russ Wolf and Bill Kacerovskis with making valuable contributions to this year's fine team.

In earlier ballgames this year the Orland Eagles rolled over Arbor Park, 54-35. Stawartz was the leading scorer in that game with 15 points. Tony Hensel poured in 13 points and Pat Nelson finished most of the scoring by pumping in 10 points.

The Orland Eagles' other game was a nonconference game against Willow Springs which they romped to an easy victory, 60-29.

Asking Coach Paulson what team will give the Orland Eagles the most trouble this year he said, "Palos South Junior High School will give us some stiff competition and will be the team to beat if we want to take first again this year."

The Orland Eagles' next game is home against Conrady Thursday, Dec. 14, with the lightweight game starting at 4 p.m. and the heavyweight game at 5 p.m. It also should be mentioned that the Orland lightweights are 3-0 and enjoying a fine season.

Sieden board sets calendar

TINLEY PARK — Sieden Prairie School (District 159) Board of Education recently approved its calendar of general meetings for the coming year.

According to President Darrell Householder, board meetings in 1973 will be held on the first and third Wednesday of each month at the Sieden Prairie School Board Conference Room, Ridgeland Avenue and Vollmer Road, Tinley Park. Householder noted, too, that the meetings are open to the public.

Final meeting for 1972 will be Wednesday, Dec. 20, at 8:15 p.m. The January meetings also will begin at 8:15 p.m.

Other board action recently included the authorization of Supt. Donald J. Tesmond to issue publicity letters to parents of all District 159 school children informing them of eligibility requirements for participation in the State of Illinois free lunch program.

Also, Building and Grounds Committee Chairman Richard Stuenkel recommended to the board the purchase of a sink cabinet for the art room, in addition to the purchase and installation of inter-com equipment for the new Sieden Prairie building addition. Stuenkel also asked the board's approval for necessary repairs to heating equipment at the school. Members of the board okayed the action.

Final business included board approval of the December payroll of $21,040.55.
